First Impressions Matter

What Impression Does Your Facility Make?

After making the difficult decision to seek care for an elderly relative, families begin to tour likely facilities. The first impression they will get of your facility occurs when they open the front doors and step inside. Since bad odor creates the idea that a place is not clean, few other issues can have such a silent – but negative – effect on a healthcare facility’s occupancy levels.

Given the numerous odor causes in any healthcare facility, a proactive Odor Control Strategy must be a priority.

If it is clean, it will smell good – right?

Those who believe that cleaning will eliminate odor are usually not aware that odors are caused from chemical compounds that cannot be wiped away. These odor compounds seep into the pores, cracks, and molecular structures of surfaces and fabrics. To eliminate odors, a counteractant must be used. ElimO® Healthcare is an odor counteractant that bonds at the molecular level with odors and neutralizes them. This bonding prevents odors from connecting with sensory receptors in the olfactory nerve.

What makes ElimO® Healthcare the best counteractant on the market?

ElimO® Healthcare is made from highly concentrated essential oils that are specifically designed to counteract odors found in health care settings. The source of many of these odors cannot be removed– the patients themselves are attached to the odors. ElimO® Healthcare will eliminate odors from certain nuclear medicines, necrotic tissue, urine and other types of bodily waste.

The concentrated nature of ElimO® Healthcare has a longer lasting effect on malodors than products that use cheaper, less effective fragrances. Spray ElimO® Healthcare in the morning and you can still tell that it is working in the evening. Because it is an odor eliminator, ElimO® can be used in bedpans, drains, laundry, mop buckets, on carpets, as a general spray or any place where odors occur. Best of all, ElimO® Healthcare is natural and environmentally safe.

Formulated specifically for tough healthcare environments, ElimO® is available in a variety of formulas:

ElimO Healthcare
ElimO Extreme
Necrotic Environments: Morgues, Burn Units, Nuclear Medicine, etc.
ElimO Holiday
